Phila.
Aug 17. 1888.

C. A. Bell.

Thanks for kindness shown Miss Jennie Johnson.

Recd
Aug 18. 1888.

August 17th

Hon" Daniel Fox,

Dear Sir,

Hearing that you were out of the city, I could not thank you personally as I wished for your kindness and forbearance to the daughter of my late beloved brother - James F Johnston

Knowing as I did the weakness of Jennie's constitution and tendency to lung and chest trouble, with inherited dropsical affection from her Mother's family. I was only surprised that she kept so long seemingly well, though at the last her death was a great shock to us all.

I need scarcely say that she had every attention possible. The Doctor who attended her is considered an excellent Surgeon - consulting Doctor Agnew with reference to operation.

Doctor Agnew arranged with him to be present if possible when it was performed but was unable to do so.

My niece often spoke of you in the kindest manner and in thanking you I ask as a favor to myself and Sisters that our thanks may also be given to all those in the Mint whose friendship she valued.

Yours respectfully,
C. A. Bell.

1333 N 16th St.

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 153

[Abstract:] Thanks for kindness shown Miss Jennie Johnson.

August 17, 1888

Hon. Daniel Fox

Dear Sir,

Hearing that you were out of the city, I could not thank you personally as I wished for your kindness and forbearance to the daughter of my late beloved brother – James F. Johnston.

Knowing as I did the weakness of Jennie's constitution and tendency to lung and chest trouble, with inherited dropsical affection from her mother's family I was only surprised that she kept so long seemingly well, though at the last her death was a great shock to us all.

I need scarcely say that she had every attention possible – the Doctor who attended he is considered an excellent surgeon – consulting Doctor Agnew with reference to operation. Doctor Agnew arranged with him to be present if possible when it was performed but was unable to do so.

My niece often spoke of you in the kindest manner and in thanking you I ask as a favor to myself and sister that our thanks may also be given to all those in the Mint whose friendship she valued.

Yours respectfully,
C.A. Bell

1383 N. 16th St.